

CHILDREN BURNED; ONE DEAD; OTHER MAY DIE

Belle Vernon Five-Year-Old Girl a Victim of Open Grate

BOY INHALED FLAMES

Monongahela Lad Expected to Succumb to Injuries Received at Bonfire

A victim of an open grate, the five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brant Hoover of Belle Vernon died this morning at the McKeesport hospital, after suffering about 18 hours from burns covering her entire body.

The girl with her three-year-old sister were playing school, when a lead pencil was by accident dropped in the grate fire. The older girl grabbed for the pencil. Her clothing took fire.

In a moment she was enveloped with flames, and ran screaming about the room not knowing what to do. Before help arrived she was fatally burned and had inhaled the flames. The younger child stood by watching and wondering why her sister was crying so.

At Monongahela Thursday afternoon, Leroy Ambler, the 2-1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ambler of the first ward sustained probably fatal burns. The child's entire body was burned. A bonfire had been lighted in the yard back of the Ambler residence. The child in playing about the fire got too close and his clothing caught. Mrs. Ambler heard the little fellow's screams but did not reach her child until all his clothing had been burned from his body. It is thought he inhaled the flames. Unconscious the child was removed to the Memorial hospital, where he was reported this morning to be in a critical condition.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ENTERTAINED BY MRS. H. J. BOOTH

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. J. Booth assisted by Mrs. F. W. Cunningham and Mrs. T. E. Bagge Wednesday afternoon. The parlors were artistically decorated with cherry blossoms, Chinese lanterns and parasols. Mrs. Daily of Pittsburgh, who is not a stranger to the society was the speaker of the day. Her address was interesting and inspiring as well as appropriate to the occasion, the chief thought being China, her needs and her progress.

Music was a feature of the afternoon with Miss Edith Crill and Felicie Bosson, sopranos, as vocalists and Norma Bosson, violinist. Quite a number of visitors were present and the society gained some new members.

A typical Chinese lunch was served in courses. The use of the chopsticks as eating utensils caused a good deal of merriment.

Washington Man Gets Divorce Because He Had to do Housework—Reasons Given for Nine Official Separations

Good reasons with plenty of trimmings were given for nine divorces granted by Judge J. F. Taylor Thursday. Seventeen divorces have been granted this week in decrees handed down.

The reason James M. Stahl gave for wanting a divorce from his wife, Ida Stahl, was that she imbibed too much and was prone to make him do housework. Furthermore she alleged she had a most embarrassing habit of chasing him with a butcher knife, and to vary the monotony of this proceeding of getting after him with a hatchet. They live in Washington W. T. King of Greene county charged his wife Lucy J. King with cruel and barbarous treatment, claiming she had threatened to poison him.

Andrew M. Young of Donora claimed desertion in his suit against his wife Mary P. Young. Cruel and barbarous treatment was averred by Ella L. Smith of Washington suing for divorce from John A. Smith. She claimed he was a heavy drinker and once broke her nose. Rosie Roth was granted a divorce from Ernest Roth on a charge of desertion. They live at Canonsburg.

Desertion and infidelity was alleged by Margaret Woodrow vs William Woodrow of Burgettstown. Flora May Harris was officially separated from David W. Harris of Donora by desertion as the reason. Margaret Oehm substantiated a claim of cruel and barbarous treatment in her suit against Nicholas Oehm. They are from Canonsburg.

REWARD OF $100 FOR RECOVERY OF PEIGH'S BODY

The body of Frank Peigh of California who was drowned in the waters of the Monongahela several days ago, has not been found although there has been a constant search for it. Heavy charges of dynamite have been set off hoping to bring the body to the surface, but these have failed. The relatives of the dead man have increased the reward from $50 to $100 for his body.

The waters of the Monongahela have become so swollen that searching is rather hazardous work at the present time. The stage is very high and much damage is feared if it keeps rising.

ENTERTAINS WITH LECTURE ON LIFE IN SOUTH AMERICA

In the presence of a small but appreciative audience Richard A. Roberts, government inspector at the locks at North Charleroi, gave an interesting talk on "Experiences in Brazil" to the young people of St. Mary's Episcopal church in the Sunday school rooms Thursday evening. Mr. Roberts spent two periods of his life in Brazil, going there with his father's family when a small boy, where the former, the head of a large contracting firm, had a railroad contract. Mr. Roberts related many entertaining experiences of his boyhood days in that interesting country. After returning to this country where he was educated, Mr. Roberts again went to Brazil when a young man, where his father had been appointed chief government engineer of rivers and harbors by the late emperor, Dom Pedro.

Mr. Roberts frequently met and talked with the late emperor and his second experience was as productive of entertaining reminiscences as the first. The animals, the birds, the insects, the fruit and flowers of the country were entertainingly described, as well as many of the curious manners and customs of the country while under the regime of the empire.

This was one of the regular monthly talks that Rev. L. W. Shey the rector, has instituted for the young people of the parish. After the address coffee and sandwiches were served, and Mr. Roberts answered questions and talked informally about his former experiences. At the next meeting in February D. M. McCloskey, Esq., will tell of his experiences of his recent trip abroad.

PATTERN FOR ALLEGHENY IS WASHINGTON

Allegheny county has profited by the example of Washington county in regard to salaries of the poor directors there. In a contention raised by Controller John H. Moffitt of this county, Justice S. Leslie Mestrezat of the Supreme Court on Monday gave an opinion that the poor directors of Washington county are public officers and therefore not entitled to an increase of salary during their incumbency. An act of May 1909 raised the remuneration of poor directors $500 a year in this county, and from $1,500 to $2,000 a year in Allegheny county. Controller Robert J. Cunningham of Allegheny will demand at once it is stated from former Poor Directors Henry W. Ochs and John Redman and Director J. McRodd the difference claimed to exist between the present salary and that paid previous to the passage of the act.

FLY WHEEL KILLS MAN

Fatal Accident Stops Clyde Mines at Fredericktown

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED

Martin Williams, aged 30 of Fredericktown, lost his life Thursday afternoon when the fly wheel on a generator engine at the mines of the Clyde Coal company, near Fredericktown burst. Williams was a fireman and was the only man at work in the generator building at the time of the accident. A large fragment of the wheel struck Williams, breaking practically every bone in his body. He lived less than an hour after the accident.

The generator machine is a total wreck and the building badly damaged. A large piece of the wheel tore a hole in the roof and smaller fragments tore through the walls. Nobody is able to explain the cause of the accident. The generator supplied light and power to the mines and as a result of the accident, all the mines had to shut down.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF MISS PARSONS

As the Mail goes to press the sad intelligence is received that Miss Lillian Belle Parsons, aged 26 years, daughter of B. L. Parsons, one of the best known and most highly esteemed young women of Charleroi, who was severely burned a week ago by her clothing taking fire at an open grate, died at her home on Fallowfield avenue. Her case, which was thought to be progressing toward recovery, lately assumed a critical type, and it was apparent this morning that she could not recover. She lingered until 2:45 this afternoon, when death released her from her sufferings.

Gasoline Buggies

Though the records of this part of Western Pennsylvania wouldn't show much of a comparison to the state of California in the way of automobiles, still for a hard working industrial community, there is much traveling done with gasoline as the motive power. In a region within a ten mile radius of Charleroi there are from 335 to 350 automobiles owned, with promises of more to be added to the stock this spring. Pittsburgh could not show, it is stated, a greater percentage than this.

Within the ten mile radius Monongahela City carries off the records for any one town, having from 70 to 75 cars. Charleroi though larger than Monongahela, has to be content with second place with 60 automobiles owned here. Monessen has a population of 12,000 or 2,000 greater than Charleroi, yet breaks even with 35 cars with Donora, with a population of $174. Bentleyville and Elmsworth together probably have 18 automobiles; Roscoe 10, Beadsville 15; Cokeburg 4; Scenery Hill 5; California 20; Fayette City 10 and the country sections surrounding Charleroi probably 10.

It would be hard to pick any really favorite car in all this territory so popular are various makes. "This far the Overland, Buick and the Ford seem to be the most run, though the territory is being worked by various other agencies, including the Studebaker, Hudson, Stearnes, Hugobule, R. C. H., Ohio, Chalmers, White, Regal, Indiana truck and Chase truck. One peculiar feature is that there are but two cars of the class that would be known as expensive. The automobiles most in demand are those running about $1,000 each.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG

The Red Petticoat, which will be the attraction at the Alvin Theatre during the week of January 18 is a musical play, with the book by Rida Johnson Young and the pretty music by Jerome Kern. It was hailed by the press of New York with a unanimity almost unprecedented as a most refreshing and pleasing novelty. Helen Lowell, who is remembered for her "Miss Hazy" in Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch and in the Lottery Man's star is doing her best work in "The Red Petticoat." The scenes are laid in a Western Mining town, and the character played by Miss Lowell is a lady barber named Sophie Brush, who takes new interests to the town. The plot concerns the adventures of Sophie in the rough town when she undertakes to shield the hero, who is wrongly accused of having stolen a large quantity of gold left in her care. Prominent in the support of Miss Lowell Grace Field, Louis Mink, Frances Kennedy, William Pruette, Joseph Phillips, James B. Carson, Donald MacDonald and sixty others, including the large and handsome chorus and the augmented orchestra.

TOO MANY ELECTIVE OFFICES.

A movement is on foot among the coal miners of the state to introduce a bill in the legislature providing for the election of mine inspectors. There seems to be a feeling in mining circles that the functions of this office are not administered in the manner they should be, and that if inspectors were elected by the people men would be chosen who would enforce the laws more rigidly providing for the safety and well being of the miners. It is charged that the laws are not sufficiently enforced, and that the reason is due to the appointment of the inspectors, who are not responsible to the people, but to the political interests that gave them their appointments.

While there is probably just grounds for complaint on the lack of adequate protection, it is doubtful if it could be remedied by the election of inspectors. In this case an elected inspector would have no more powers than an appointed one. The fault is with the system, as was evidenced by the recent experience in the department of factory inspection. It is doubtful if the situation would be improved by the election of inspectors by the people, as the duties of an inspector are purely technical, and as the non-mining electors qualified to vote are in most districts larger than the miners who are qualified voters, it might be possible to elect inspectors who were totally incompetent.

Another objection to the election of mine inspectors is that it would increase the elective officers, of which there are too many now. In order to get a shorter ballot the tendency is to do away with a number of petty officials that are now elected and have them appointed. A more efficient mining department, more stringent provisions for safety and comfort, and rigid enforcement of the laws and regulations will no doubt accomplish more tangible results than the election of inspectors. This latter method would make it possible to take the matter entirely out of the hands of the miners, and this would be productive of greater evils than the present system.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

This little zoo story, clipped from an English newspaper, has been sent in:

An old lady was inspecting the Zoo and, going up to the keeper, she said, "I want to ask you which of the animals in the Zoo you consider the most remarkable."

"Well, mum," he replied, "after careful consideration you might say I've come to the conclusion as the b'cuit one, to the laughing hyena."

"Indeed!" said the old lady in surprise. "And why?"

"Well, mum," answered the zoological expert, "he only has a sleep once a week, he only has a meal once a month, and he only has a drink once a year. So what he's got to laugh about is a bloomin' mystery to me!"

"One of the funny experiences that happens once in awhile came to my attention in Weston, West Virginia, on my last trip down there," said a traveling man this week, who sells a line of goods that takes him over the adjacent parts of the three states. "A young lady clerk employed by one of my patrons is sent to the office of the leading hotel there to deliver some work that is done daily for the house. Two or three bell boys are on duty there, and the clerk, as is the custom, when he wants one, calls out, 'Front!' and the boy who has the place next to the desk rushes up."

"It so happened that the young lady invariably saw the same boy respond to the call of 'Front!' whenever she happened to be in there, so when she returned to the office last week, she said:

"That boy Front down at the hotel must be the best one in the lot, as the clerk always calls him when he wants a boy."

"Then, when we all laughed, the young lady got sore and walked out of the office."

BRONCHITIS PREVALENT

Brooklyn, N. Y., Man Tells of Best Remedy.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Wilbur Adams of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted in January caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness, all of which made me quite uneasy, besides being very painful.

I tried different remedies without help, but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right now and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cod livers (without oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. Piper Bros., Druggists.

CHILDREN BURNED; ONE DEAD; OTHER MAY DIE

Belle Vernon Five-Year-Old Girl a Victim of Open Grate

BOY INHALED FLAMES

Monongahela Lad Expected to Succumb to Injuries Received at Bonfire

A victim of the open grate, the five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brant Hoover of Belle Vernon died this morning at the McKeesport hospital, after suffering about 18 hours from burns covering her entire body.

The girl with her three-year-old sister were playing school, when a lead pencil was by accident dropped in the grate fire. The older girl grabbed for the pencil. Her clothing took fire.

In a moment she was enveloped with flames, and ran screaming about the room not knowing what to do. Before help arrived she was fatally burned and had inhaled the flames. The younger child stood by watching and wondering why her sister was crying so.

At Monongahela Thursday afternoon, Leroy Ambler, the 2 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ambler of the first ward sustained probably fatal burns. The child's entire body was burned. A bonfire had been lighted in the yard back of the Ambler residence. The child in playing about the fire got too close and his clothing caught. Mrs. Ambler heard the little fellow's screams but did not reach her child until all his clothing had been burned from his body. It is thought he inhaled the flames. Unconscious the child was removed to the Memorial hospital, where he was reported this morning to be in a critical condition.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ENTERTAINED BY

MRS. H. J. DOWNE

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. J. Booth assisted by Mrs. F. W. Cunningham and Mrs. T. R. Eagy Wednesday afternoon. The parlors were artistically decorated with cherry blossoms, Chinese lanterns and parasols. Mrs. Dally of Pittsburgh, who is not a stranger to the society was the speaker of the day. Her address was interesting and inspiring as well as appropriate to the occasion, the chief thought being China, her needs and her progress.

Music was a feature of the afternoon with Miss Edith Crill and Felicie Bosson, sopranos, as vocalists and Norma Bosson, violinist. Quite a number of visitors were present and the society gained some new members.

A typical Chinese lunch was served in courses. The use of the chopsticks as eating utensils caused a good deal of merriment.

Washington Man Gets Divorce Because He Had to do Housework—Reasons Given for Nine Official Separations

Good reasons with plenty of trimmings were given for nine divorces granted by Judge J. F. Taylor Thursday. Seventeen divorces have been granted this week in decrees handed down.

The reason James M. Stahl gave for wanting a divorce from his wife, Ida Stahl, was that she imbibed too much and was prone to make him do housework. Furthermore he alleged she had a most embarrassing habit of chasing him with a butcher knife, and to vary the monotony of this proceeding of getting after him with a hatchet. They live in Washington W. T. King of Greene county charged his wife Lucy J. King with cruel and barbarous treatment, claiming she had threatened to poison him.

Andrew M. Young of Donora claimed desertion in his suit against his wife Mary P. Young. Cruel and barbarous treatment was averred by Ella L. Smith of Washington suing for divorce from John A. Smith. She claimed he was a heavy drinker and once broke her nose. Rosie Roth was granted a divorce from Ernest Roth on a charge of desertion. They live in Canonsburg.

Desertion and infidelity was alleged by Margaret Woodrow vs William Woodrow of Burgettstown. Flora May Harris was officially separated from David W. Harris of Donora with desertion as the reason. Margaret Oehm substantiated a claim of cruel and barbarous treatment in her suit against Nicholas Oehm. They are from Canonsburg.

REWARD OF $100 FOR RECOVERY OF PEIGH'S BODY

The body of Frank Peigh of California who was drowned in the waters of the Monongahela several days ago, has not been found although there has been a constant search for it. Heavy charges of dynamite have been set off hoping to bring the body to the surface, but these have failed. The relatives of the dead man have increased the reward from $50 to $100 for his body.

The waters of the Monongahela have become so swollen that searching is rather hazardous work at the present time. The stage is very high and much damage is feared if it keeps rising.

ENTERTAINS WITH LECTURE ON LIFE IN SOUTH AMERICA

In the presence of a small but appreciative audience Richard A. Roberts, government inspector at the locks at North Charleroi, gave an interesting talk on "Experiences in Brazil" to the young people of St. Mary's Episcopal church in the Sunday school rooms Thursday evening. Mr. Roberts spent two periods of his life in Brazil, going there with his father's family when a small boy, where the former, the head of a large contracting firm, had a railroad contract. Mr. Roberts related many entertaining experiences of his boyhood days in that interesting country. After returning to this country where he was educated, Mr. Roberts again went to Brazil when a young man, where his father had been appointed chief government engineer of rivers and harbors by the late emperor, Dom Pedro.

Mr. Roberts frequently met and talked with the late emperor and his second experience was as productive of entertaining reminiscences as the first. The animals, the birds, the insects, the fruit and flowers of the country were entertainingly described, as well as many of the curious manners and customs of the country while under the regime of the empire.

This was one of the regular monthly talks that Rev. L. W. Shey the rector, has instituted for the young people of the parish. After the address coffee and sandwiches were served, and Mr. Roberts answered questions and talked informally about his former experiences. At the next meeting in February D. M. McCloskey, Esq., will tell of his experiences.

PATTERN FOR ALLEGHENY IS WASHINGTON

Allegheny county has profited by the example of Washington county in regard to salaries of the poor directors there. In a contention raised by Controller John H. Moffitt of this county, Justice S. Leslie Mestrezat of the Supreme Court on Monday gave an opinion that the poor directors of Washington county are public officers and therefore not entitled to an increase of salary during their incumbency. An act of May 1909 raised the remuneration of poor directors $500 a year in this county, and from $1,500 to $2,000 a year in Allegheny county. Controller Robert J. Cunningham of Allegheny will demand at once it is stated from former Poor Directors Henry W. Ochse and John Redman and Director J. McRodd the difference claimed to exist between the present salary and that paid previous to the passage of the act.

FLY WHEEL KILLS MAN

Fatal Accident Stops Clyde Mines at Fredericktown

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED

Martin Williams, aged 30 of Fredericktown, lost his life Thursday afternoon when the fly wheel on a generator engine at the mines of the Clyde Coal company, near Fredericktown burst. Williams was a fireman and was the only man at work in the generator building at the time of the accident. A large fragment of the wheel struck Williams, breaking practically every bone in his body. He lived less than an hour after the accident.

The generator machine is a total wreck and the building badly damaged. A large piece of the wheel tore a hole in the roof and smaller fragments tore through the walls. Nobody is able to explain the cause of the accident. The generator supplied light and power to the mines and as a result of the accident, all the mines had to shut down.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF MISS PARSONS

As the Mail goes to press the sad intelligence is received that Miss Lillian Belle Parsons, aged 26 years, daughter of B. L. Parsons, one of the best known and most highly esteemed young women of Charleroi, who was severely burned a week ago by her clothing taking fire at an open grate, died at her home on Fallowfield avenue. Her case, which was thought to be progressing toward recovery, lately assumed a critical type, and it was apparent this morning that she could not recover. She lingered until 2:45 this afternoon, when death released her from her sufferings.

Approximately 350 Machines Within Ten Mile Radius

MONONGAHELA HAS 70

Aged City Leads in Number—Charleroi Second With Sixty

Gasoline Suggies

Though the records of this part of Western Pennsylvania wouldn't show much of a comparison to the state of California in the way of automobiles, still for a hard working industrial community, there is much traveling done with gasoline as the motive power. In a region within a ten mile radius of Charleroi there are from 335 to 350 automobiles owned, with promises of more to be added to the stock this spring. Pittsburgh could not show, it is stated, a greater percentage than this.

Within the ten mile radius Monongahela City carries off the records for any one town, having from 70 to 75 cars. Charleroi though larger than Monongahela, has to be content with second place with 60 automobiles owned here. Monessen has a population of 12,000 or 2,000 greater than Charleroi, yet breaks even with 35 cars with Donora, with a population of 8,174. Bentleyville and Ellsworth together probably have 18 automobiles; Roscoe 10, Reidsville 15; Cokeburg 4; Scenery Hill 5; California 20; Fayette City 10 and the country sections surrounding Charleroi probably 10.

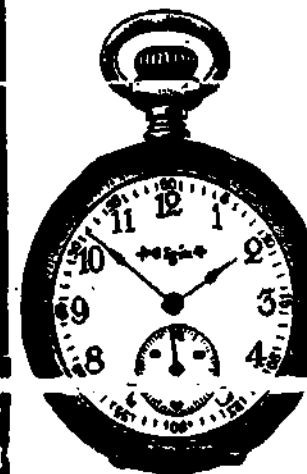

It would be hard to pick any really favorite car in all this territory so popular are various makes. Thus far the Overland, Buick and the Ford seem to be the most run, though the territory is being worked by various other agencies, including the Studebaker, Hudson, Stearnes, Hupmobile, R. C. H., Ohio, Chalmers, White, Regal, Indiana truck and Chase truck.

One peculiar feature is that there are but two cars of the class that would be known as expensive. The automobiles most in demand are those running about $1,000 each.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG

The Red Petticoat, which will be the attraction at the Alvin Theatre during the week of January 13 is a musical play, with the book by Ride Johnson Young and the pretty music by Jerome Kern. It was hailed by the press of New York with a unanimity almost unprecedented as a most refreshing and pleasing novelty. Helen Lowell, who is remembered for her "Miss Hazy" in Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch and in the Lottery Manis the star is doing her best work in "The Red Petticoat." The scenes are laid in a Western Mining town, and the character played by Miss Lowell is a lady barber named Sophie Brush, who takes new interests to the town. The plot concerns the adventures of Sophie in the rough town when she undertakes to shield the hero, who is wrongly accused of having stolen a large quantity of gold left in her care. Prominent in the support of Miss Lowell Grace Field, Louis Mink, Frances Kennedy, William Pruette, Joseph Phillips, James B. Carson, Donald MacDonald and sixty others, including the large and handsome chorus and the augmented orchestra.

TOO MANY ELECTIVE OFFICES.

A movement is on foot among the coal miners of the state to introduce a bill in the legislature providing for the election of nine inspectors. There seems to be a feeling in mining circles that the functions of this office are not administered in the manner they should be, and that if inspectors were elected by the people men would be chosen who would enforce the laws more rigidly providing for the safety and well being of the miners. It is charged that the laws are not sufficiently enforced, and that the reason is due to the appointment of the inspectors, who are not responsible to the people, but to the political interests that gave them their appointments.

While there is probably just grounds for complaint on the lack of adequate protection, it is doubtful if it could be remedied by the election of inspectors. In this case an elected inspector would have no more powers than an appointed one. The fault is with the system, as was evidenced by the recent experience in the department of factory inspection. It is doubtful if the situation would be improved by the election of inspectors by the people, as the duties of an inspector are purely technical, and as the non-mining electors qualified to vote are in most districts larger than the miners who are qualified voters, it might be possible to elect inspectors who were totally incompetent.

Another objection to the election of mine inspectors is that it would increase the elective officers, of which there are too many now. In order to get a shorter ballot the tendency is to do away with a number of petty officials that are now elected and have been appointed. A more efficient mining department, more stringent provisions for safety and comfort, and rigid enforcement of the laws and regulations will no doubt accomplish more tangible results than the election of inspectors. This latter method would make it possible to take the matter entirely out of the hands of the miners, and this would be productive of greater evils than the present system.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

This little zoo story, clipped from an English newspaper, has been sent in:

An old lady was inspecting the Zoo and going up to the keeper, she said, "I want to ask you which of the animals in the Zoo you consider the most remarkable."

"Well, mum," he replied, "after careful consideration, you might say I've come to the conclusion as the biscuit goes to the laughing hyena."

"Indeed!" said the old lady in surprise. "And why?"

"Well, mum," answered the zoological expert, "he only has a sleep once a week, he only has a meal once a month, and he only has a drink once a year. So what he's got to laugh about is a bloomin' mystery to me!"

"One of the funny experiences that happens once in awhile came to my attention in Weston, West Virginia, on my last trip down there," said a traveling man this week, who sells a line of goods that takes him over the adjacent parts of the three states. "A young lady clerk employed by one of my patrons is sent to the office of the leading hotel there to deliver some work that is done daily for the house. Two or three bell boys are on duty there, and the clerk, as is the custom, when he wants one, calls out, 'Front!' and the boy who has the place next to the desk rushes up."

"It so happened that the young lady invariably saw the same boy respond to the call of 'Front!' whenever she happened to be in there, so when she returned to the office last week, she said:

"That boy Front down at the hotel must be the best one in the lot, as the clerk always calls him when he wants a boy."

"That," when all laughed, the young lady got sore and walked out of the office."

BRONCHITIS PREVALENT

Brooklyn, N. Y., Man Tells of Best Remedy.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes--a hard cough and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Wilbur Adams of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted in January caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness, all of which made me quite uneasy, besides being very painful.

I tried different remedies without help, but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right now and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cod livers (without oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. Piper Bros., Druggists.
